You may submit a complaint by using this complaint form or submitting a letter. If you submit a letter, please include the kind of information requested by this form.

Please be as detailed as possible, including such information as the name of the administrative law judge, the tribunal, the name of the case, the name of the parties, the date or dates on which the violation allegedly occurred and a description of the alleged violation.

The AJC and OATH Chief Judge review all complaints and decide whether to refer the complaint for investigation. Sometimes it is necessary for the AJC or OATH staff to call the complainant or other participants for clarification of the complaint. You can also send the complaint form directly to the tribunal head.
